

Friday 22nd May

Work for Year 4

Please spend time doing these tasks this morning.

There is also a suggested timetable on our Year 4 page.

English:

Today listen to the sounds around you and then get creative with your sentences for sounds.

#24 CREATIVE WRITING PROMPT

Make a list of every sound you can hear. Can you write them out in order now, from the loudest sound to the quietest sound? Be creative! For example:

I heard the sound of a giant's footstep bounding up the stairs,

I heard the flush of a thousand waterfalls as my brother pulled the toilet chain...

Maths:

As a warm up today, do the 6 times table on Supermovers, then try 10 minutes on TT Rockstars and Daily 10.

More time teasers today! Use the clock face to help you.

Look at Marigold's timetable and solve the time teasers!

8.45 – 9.00	9.00 – 9.50	9.50 – 10.45	10.45 – 11.10	11.10 – 12.05
Registration	Science	Maths	Break	French
12.05 – 1.25		1.25 – 2.10	2.10 – 2.45	2.45 – 3.30
Lunch		English	Art	History

- How long is ...
 - Science?
 - French?
 - History?
 - Lunch?
 - Maths?
- Which is the longest lesson?
- How long is the school day?

What is Ramadan?

For 1.6 billion followers of the Islamic religion, this past month has been Ramadan, a very important time in the Muslim calendar.

This year Ramadan has looked very different for most Muslims with the corona virus pandemic preventing large gatherings and worship in the Mosque.

The end of Ramadan is this weekend, on 23rd May, a big celebration will take place called Eid ul-Fitr.

Click here to find out what Ramadan is:

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/topics/zpdtstk/articles/zjc2bdm>

As part of the celebration of Eid ul-Fitr Muslims celebrate breaking the fast with the festival of baking. Below is a recipe for biscuits for sharing. Have a go and share your biscuits and knowledge with your neighbours!

Celebrate Eid al-Fitr by cooking and sharing

Type of activity: Cooking and sharing

Who is it for? All the family

What do I need?

- Your favourite cookie or biscuit recipe and ingredients for it
- Help from a grown-up to use sharp utensils and hot ovens in the kitchen
- Time, compassion and thoughtfulness for those in your community

Links to the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs): This activity links to SDG 16: Peace, Justice and Strong Institutions (find out more here <https://www.un.org/sustainabledevelopment/peace-justice/>)

Introduction

On 23 May, some 1.6 billion Muslims around the world will start to celebrate the end of the holy month of Ramadan (find out more about Ramadan here: <https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/topics/zpdt/bk/articles/zjc2bdm>), a period of fasting, with the festival of Eid al-Fitr. Eid al-Fitr means 'festival of breaking the fast' and usually lasts up to three days. In many Muslim cultures, it's tradition to make Eid cookies or biscuits and share them with family and friends. This symbolises kindness, compassion and the importance of giving to others.

So why not bake your favourite biscuit recipe and share your own Eid biscuits with your neighbours – while carefully socially distancing yourself.

Here's how to...

1. Follow the recipe of your favourite biscuit recipe.
2. Once your biscuits have cooled and you've decorated them, make them into pretty packages – you could put them into containers and wrap them in wrapping paper, make and decorate your own boxes for them, or come up with your own way of presenting them.
3. Then write a tag to attach to your parcel of biscuits that lets your neighbour know that you've made them to help celebrate and understand Eid and that you want to share your biscuits with them! Research Ramadan and Eid and put a little bit of information about the fasting of Ramadan and celebration of Eid on your tags.
4. When you are ready, go and leave them with your neighbours – put them on their doorstep or their windowsill. Ask your parent to phone or contact your neighbour to let them know they have some home-made celebratory biscuits waiting for them!

What now?

Why not try to make some other Eid al-Fitr recipes? Take a look at the options on the BBC Food website https://www.bbc.co.uk/food/occasions/eid_el-fitr and get cooking!

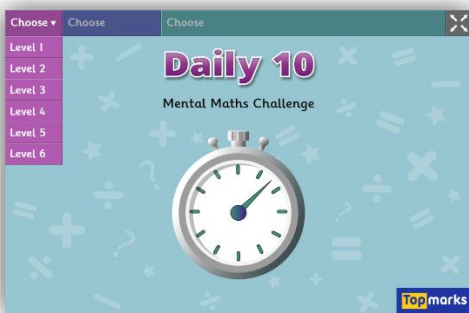

Find out more about Cumbria Development Education Centre (CDEC) at www.cdec.org.uk

You could look at these websites for more fun learning during the week!

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/teach/supermovers> - you know the times tables ones, have a go at the others if you like!

<https://www.topmarks.co.uk/maths-games/daily10> - mental maths that you set your level.

<https://www.topmarks.co.uk/maths-games/hit-the-button> - a quick fire mental maths game.

https://www.youtube.com/user/thebodycoach1?fbclid=IwAR0iaRPq65aXPUBDdwgl2JbbhR3bsL6oTAGsSzuAJYhaco6QMui-3u_60a8 – Joe Wicks is doing a FREE PE lesson every day at 9am – so keep your body fit as well as your mind!

<https://www.glasgowsciencecentre.org/gsc-at-home> - Glasgow Science Centre will be live every day at 10am! Expand your mind!!

