Maths

Remember:  $<$  means is less than     $>$  means is greater than    So we can say  $5 < 10$  and  $10 > 5$

Watch this video on equivalent fractions: <https://vimeo.com/498327458>

Don't worry when the video asks you about worksheet questions – ignore that bit, just carry on watching.

Now have a go at answering the questions on the Equivalent Fractions sheet. Question 1 asks you to shade the fractions. Don't worry if you don't have that capability; instead, have a discussion with an adult about which ones you'd shade.

English

You have now watched four of the Benjamin Zephaniah reading comprehension videos.

This is the last one which is basically a recap of what you've seen already. Send to Class Dojo a photo of your recipe poem once you are finished and happy with it. Remember, you are writing as if it is a recipe (e.g. pour, stir, add, blend, etc.).

One or two of you slightly jumped the gun last week, so if you have written your poem already and would like a further challenge...do the History Home Learning I've set and then write a recipe poem for a Viking warrior.

History: Viking Warriors and Weapons

<https://www.loom.com/share/d32227dcbb644b2290141f6400169f1c>

Read the sheet 'Viking Warriors'.

Now watch this: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AWXrCOKxh\_Q

Task:

- 1) Create an advert. You are selling a Viking weapon to a Viking warrior.
- 2) The weapon you are advertising is one you've selected from the video. It might be a Seax, Hand Axe, Mace or even a helmet, etc.
- 3) Your advert should include persuasive language. Remember, your purpose is to sell.
- 4) Send a positive message about the weapon to the warrior.
- 5) It should appeal to the customer's personality.

You can make a video of the advert, but I know a number of you have had problems sending videos to me. Remember, your customer is a Viking warrior.
